HAIL TO 1943!

Ours is not the gaiety of confetti, nor the tooting of horns this New Year's Eve. Ours is the prayer that in the weeks and months ahead, we shall remember what we are fighting for—why we are fighting — that the life blood of the nation may run clean, and warm, and strong in the ways of freedom.

Across this year, A. D. 1942, stretch the thousands of "man-hours," the miles of blue prints. Slashing the headlines came the name of MacArthur. Followed the deathless battles for Bataan, for Corregidor. Then Phoenix-wise from the ashes of our loss came the hard-won victories in the South Pacific —Guadalcanal, Buna. Troop trains hurtled from coast to coast, the draft dipped deeply into the lives of everyone—and then the youngsters heard their call. The nation's wheels gaining speed, whirled in the tempo of our war cry—liberation of the earth from the enslavement of tyranny.

Mighty Russia held her valiant own, by slow degrees pressing back the German menace invading her very towns. The classic of the North African campaign jarred us into sudden hope and joy of conquest. General "Ike" appeared — to capture our hearts, to be succeeded by the heroic struggle to get Tunisia before Hitler could slug back successfully. Hoarding, rationing, empty shelves, bewildered us momentarily with their quick sucession. This was total war.

The year 1943 stretches off into the vague fog of possibilities. As never before, there's only NOW in which to live and act. The past year offers lessons that inform us, if we heed them. The future will be as good as we make it. This New Year's Eve, let us resolve to work, and pray, and share. Good will come of it. There will be victory!

YULETIDE

This is Christmas! The laughter of millions of children of a hundred racial heritages mingles with the bells that summon the devout to worship in freedom at altars of their own choice. Christmas tree lights shine bravely within our curtained homes. Motor cars moves slowly to friendly places. There is food in abundance, and general good will over the land. This is Christmas—in America.

HAS OPERATION

Alson Yeager, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Yeager, has been absent from his work at the post office because of a serious operation performed at O'Connor sanitarium last week. He may be permitted to be taken home for Christmas.

Ray Wood returned to his duties at the post office Monday after an absence of several days on account of a severe cold.

Duncan-Cavas Wedding Held At Local Church

Campbell Congregational church was chosen by Miss Dorothy Duncan, youngest daughter of Mrs. Emily Duncan and the late Frank Duncan, for her marriage to James Cavas at a four o'clock ceremony last Sunday.

The Rev. J. H. Bennett read the service in the presence of many relatives and a few intimate friends of the young couple who stood before the chancel banked with bamboo and chrysanthemums and flanked with candelabra and white tapers. The lighted church Christmas tree added to the attractive setting.

The bride, given into the keeping of the bridegroom by her brother, Freeman David Duncan, wore a gown of dainty pink chiffon and pink veil, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and pink and white bouvardia.

The bride's only attendant was the matron of honor, Mrs. Chris Vanis, who wore an aqua satin dress and her flowers were pink carnations.

Chris Vanis served the bridegroom as best man and guests were ushered to their seats by Duncan McConnell and David Duncan, nephews of the bride.

Mrs. David Sanders played organ selections and the wedding march.

After the ceremony a reception for the bridal party, relatives and San Francisco friends was held in the home of the bride.

All of the bride's brothers and sisters with their families were present, but the groom has no near relatives living.

The bride attended Cambrian elementary and Campbell Union High schools and graduated from the St. Francis school of nursing in San Francisco and has since been a special nurse in St. Francis hospital. She plans to continue her work during the present emergency need for nurses.

Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Cavas left for Yosemite to remain until after the New Year and upon their return will make their home in San Francisco where Mr. Cavas has a grocery business.

Youths of 17 May Enlist Now In Marine Corps

It is now possible for all youths of 17 years of age to volunteer for enlistment in the U. S. Marine Corps, according to word received from Sgt. R. L. Creitz in charge of Marine Corps recruiting in San Jose.

If you are 17 and can procure your parents consent for enlistment for the duration of the war, you may be sworn in immediately, Sgt. Creitz said.

Applicants for a marriage license Monday were Beryl Orrell Garcia, 18, and Laura Mae Haskin, 17, both of Campbell.

It would be fine if we personally could meet and greet each one of you this thought-provoking Christmas of 1942. The fact that we cannot does not keep us from saying to you here that we wish you every success in finding, during the Yuletide, all the happiness it can possibly bring.

Theater Plans Midnight Show New Year's Eve

There will be a special matinee (continuous performance) Christmas day at the Campbell theater, commencing at 2 o'clock with "Footlight Serenade" the feature attraction starring John Payne, Betty Grable and Victor Mature. The companion picture is "The Spirit of Stanford" starring Frankie Albert.

A special midnight performance will be held New Year's Eve with a carefully selected program—fun for all. Many prizes which have been furnished by Campbell merchants and the theater management will be given away. Doors open at 11:30 and the fun starts at 11:45 promptly.

The special matinee New Year's day will start at 2 o'clock with the superb technicolor picture "Springtime in the Rockies" featuring Betty Grable, John Payne, Carmen Miranda and Harry James and his orchestra. The companion picture is "I Married an Angel" starring Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald.

Special gifts to the ladies of crockery every Wednesday night.

Kiwanis Party For Children Huge Success

The Christmas party for grammar school children held annually by the Kiwanis club went over in a big way Tuesday.

High lighting the occasion were rides in a jeep, piloted by Dick Russo of Moffett Field Marines. Purchase of a war stamp of any valuation entitled the youngsters to a ride, and the driver stowed them in by sixes and gave them the ride of their lives, which he seemed to enjoy, too. We were told the stamp sale netted $102.00.

The afternoon was spent indoors viewing several films of moving pictures which the committee had hastily collected after the ones ordered failed to arrive.

The days festivities were arranged by the Boys and Girls committee of the club, Ray Mathis, chairman, and with special assistance by Ira Abbott and Rev. Don Baldwin.

Next week the club will hear the annual reports of the president and secretary.

Last evening eleven members and their wives went over to attend the Christmas party of the San Lorenzo valley club.

C. of C. Elects Cyril Peterman President, 1943

The chamber of commerce at a meeting last week in the office of Guy Farley held the annual election of officers, naming Cyril Peterman, manager of the Sprouse-Reitz store as president. Martin S. Walsh was chosen to succeed himself as secretary-treasurer.

Herbert Shadle as chairman of a committee submitted the names of ten from which five new directors were to be chosen and those with the highest number of votes cast were Dr. W. I. Merrill, George Arlidge, Dave Ribble Ray Mathis and Ralph Hyde.

Included among the Scrip- before the community and correct any wrong impressions it was decided to call a community mass meeting for the night of Monday, Jan. 11 to explain the proposed increase of the fire district. This meeting will probably be held in the high school little theater.

County Surveyor Robert Chandler and District Attorney John P. Fitzgerald plan to be present and explain the technical steps involved. The Campbell fire commissioners will be invited to meet with the officials and the chamber members.

The chamber voted to sponsor a service flag to be displayed somewhere in the business district. Parents or relatives of men in any of the armed forces are urged to send in the names of those men to Herbert Shadle at once. Names will be listed alphabetically and the display will be made as soon as possible. This list will include more than the one the high school is arranging.

Hascall Appointed Business Manager Of Co. Hospital

Andrew L. Hascall, now retired from restaurant business which he conducted for many years at several changes of location in San Jose has been appointed business manager of the county hospital by the board of supervisors.

This apointment fills the vacancy created by the departure of I. Norman Downer who was granted a leave of absence to accept a commission as captain in the army medical corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Hascall were residents of Campbell a number of years ago, residing at 101 North Second street.

RECOVERING

H. A. Logan is at O'Connor sanitarium recovering from an operation. He expected to come home today.

VISITS FRIEND

Miss Nellie Haynes of Bullingame was visiting her girlhood friend, Mrs. D. H. Carmer last Friday. Miss Haynes is a retired teacher from the Hawaiian islands, which she left when civilians were asked to leave.

Christmas Tea, Program Enjoyed By Club Members

An event of major importance in Campbell during the past week was the delightful Christmas tea enjoyed by members of the Country Woman's club on Monday afternoon.

Interesting Christmas decorations consisted of large bowls of toyon and Oregon grape placed about the hall, while white candles, poinsettias and pine boughs graced the piano. The center of interest on the mantle was an Italian plaque of Fra Angelico's, "The Angel Choristers." Candelabra with white candles and branches of pine completed the arrangement.

Gifts of jellies and fruit for Christmas baskets were placed about a small white Christmas tree decorated with red and silver ornaments.

A roaring fire in the fireplace added to the cheerfulness of the occasion.

Mrs. G. E. Jeffers presided at a brief business meeting when Mrs. H. F. Cousins and Miss Dorothy Dean were voted into the club membership.

Mrs. R. H. Hyde led the club in singing Christmas carols. Mrs. David Rutherford accompanied at the piano.

A group of Christmas songs was sung by the Rev. Donald Baldwin. His selections were "Birthday of the King" by Neidlinger, "Jesu Bahbino" by Pietro Yon, and "White Christmas" by Irving Berlin. Mrs. Rutherford was the accompanist.

The Rev. J. H. Bennett gave a Christmas talk entitled "The Reality of Christmas." He spoke of the essential Christmas spirit of friendliness and peace which should never leave us, even in war time.

Two songs, "Away In A Manger" by Martin Luther and "Cantique de Noel" by Carl Deis were sung by Miss Josephine Barbano, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. David Sanders.

Mrs. Jeffers and Mrs. W. H. Van Dyke presided over a prettily appointed tea table which was covered with a handmade lace cloth in a poinsettia pattern placed over a cloth of Christmas red. The centerpiece was arranged with white candles, paper white narcissus, and small sprays of redwood, surrounded by little white angels.

The afternoon was in charge of the following members: Mrs. Charles Simonds, Mrs. Roy Archibald, Mrs. David Ribble, Mrs. Oliver Price, Mrs. E. C. Price, Mrs. George Leigh, Mrs. Lowell Benson, Mrs. Frank Shepherd, and Miss Helen Stray, who presided as chairman.

Members of the Horizon club who assisted in serving and caring for children were Marjorie Livingston, Elaine Knapp and Velma Zimmer.

NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION 1942 Active Member

In the news-writing contest for the best story in modern form of the Birth of Christ, the National Editorial Association awarded the prize for the following story submitted by Frank Brutto of The Evanston Daily News-Index, Evanston, Illinois. The donor of this prize was Justus Craemer, Orange (Calif.) News and past president of the association.

Christ Is Born. . . . .

Christ was born last night.

While thousands who for generations had awaited His birth slept and were unaware the promised Redeemer of mankind came into the world.

Not with fanfare. Not with kingly pomp.

Not heralded by armies which so many of His people in recent years had imagined would accompany His coming to deliver them from the bondage of a foreign empire and to restore to them the full glory of Solomon and his temple.

But humbly, with sheep and goats for attendants, He was born in a stable, because there was no room in the inn of Bethlehem.

Thus the words of the Prophet Micheas were fulfilled: "And thou Bethlehem the land of Juda art not the least among the princes of Juda; for out of thee shall come forth the captain that shall rule my people of Israel."

And Mary, His mother, wrapped Him in swaddling clothes and laid Him in a manger, because it was cold in the stable. Outside the streets of Bethlehem were silent, quiet.

All day there had been clamor in the streets—for here, too, as in all the Roman empire, people have returned to be registered in the city of their birth.

Merchant prices from Achzib in Galilee and bankers from Jerusalem with their followers and bodyguards, and beggars from Samaria with their lice and their rags.

All day the streets of Bethlehem resounded with the rumble of wheels and the clatter of sandeled feet.

But last night the streets were strangely quiet.

None of these merchants or bankers, or even beggars knew of the birth of Christ. They were asleep.

Word of the birth was brought to this city last night by shepherds who had been tending their flocks on the outskirts of Bethlehem. These men brought glad tidings, given to them they said, by angels who sang: "Glory to God in the highest; and on earth peace to men of good will."

An angel of the Lord, they said, had appeared before them and said to them: "Fear not; for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, that shall be to all the people. For this day is born to you a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord, in the city of David. And this shall be a sign to you; you shall find the infant wrapped in swaddling clothes, and laid in a manger."

And so, the shepherds, said, they left their flocks on the hillside and came to Bethlehem, the city of David, to find the child.

And when they came to the inn of the city, the boldest of them stepped up to the door and knocked. No one answered. He knocked more loudly, and there was a lumbering noise on the inside, and soon the door was opened a crack and the innkeeper asked them, angry: "What is this racket? Who are you? There are no rooms . . . do you hear . . . not a single room . . . go away."

"But . . ." began one of the shepherds.

"Not a room."

"But(we don't want a room."

"Not want a room, then why are you knocking here? Don't you know this is an inn?"

"We are looking for the Christ," very simply.

"The Christ?"

"Yes, we have seen His angel."

The innkeeper opend the door a trifle wider and blinked an eye at them. Then he reared back his head, opened his mouth and laughed a lusty shout of a laugh.

"Ho . . . ho . . . soooo, the Christ." He caught his breath, and then shouted at them, "And I suppose you think I have Him under my roof. Ho . . . ho." He ran a chubby hand through his thinning hair.

"That," he told the shepherds, "is the best one I've heard since the enrollment order. 'So all might be registered,' they said. So none may escape the tax collector, say I . . . But why do I talk to you fellows?

"Listen,you, when the Christ is born we shall know it, yes, we'll all know it . . . There will be something to shout about, believe me . . . And there will be plenty to hear. He'll be a leader, do you hear . . . a strong leader, do you—but why do I talk to you; listen, go away."

The innkeeper rubbed his hands and began to close the door.

"But we are looking for the Christ; we have seen His angel," said one of the younger shepherds boldly. "Has no one come this way?

"No—go away—you'll disturb . . ."

"The angel said we would find the child in a manger."

"In a manger . . . hmmm . . ." the innkeeper mused. "Why," he said remembering, "there were two people here earlier in the evening. A man and a girl. The girl was on an ass.

"Yes, I had forgotten. The man asked for a room. But I told him what I'm telling you . . . there is no room. I remember he nearly cried. The girl seemed very tired, but I didn't see her face. Yes, I remmber them. I felt sorry for them, but there was no room. I told them they could go into the stable. But they had no child.

"Now will you go. It's cold out here." The innkeeper looked at the shepherds and chuckled. "The Christ . . . ho . . . ho . . ." He closed the door.

Again the night was very still. Stars shone brightly on Bethlehem, and it was cold.

For a moment the shepherds were afraid.

"Maybe," suggested one of them, "we have been wrong.

"Don't say that. Remember there was the angel . . . and the sign given us. Let's go to the stable."

They jostled themselves in the eagerness.

Softly they entered.

There was a candle stuck in the crude wall, and it cast a feeble glow.

Beneath its flickering light they saw Mary and Joseph of Nazareth, and then, drawing nearer, they saw the Child, wrapped in swaddling clothes and laid in the manger, as the angel had told them. It was quiet. The world was hushed.

The clang of the swords of Rome fell far, far away, and the shout of the tax collector and the laugh of the innkeeper were lost and forgotten.

It was so quiet that the shepherds could hear the breath of the beasts, gently drawn, and could see it like a mist in the cold light of the candle.

And they knelt, there in the stable, and worshipped.

Christmas

Christmas comes but once a year,
And with it comes a friendly cheer;
It brings to joyous girls and boys,
The best of fun and many toys.

Grownups, too, find happiness;
Then their sorrows seem much less,
For on Christmas Day we give our love,
And receive a blessing from God above.

Some come home to spend this day,
But many are too far away,
God keep them safe throughout the year;
Cheer their hearts and banish fear.

Yes, Christmas time means joy and fun;
And when at last, the day is done,
Still our hearts are filled with cheer,
To help us face a strange new year.

—Norma Herring, '43

Carl Field was confined to bed the first of the week with an attack of flu, but a few days after Carl, Jr. was out after a two weeks seige of bronchitis.

ON VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Benson are leaving this afternoon for Kingsburg to spend the remainder of the week with her relatives.

May we have some more —at Christmas?

The greatest war of all time is causing, on the Long Distance lines of the Nation, the greatest number of telephone calls in history.

Those calls are helping to build ships, to make munitions, to move troops and supplies. They are helping to bring the end of the war closer.

Big though it is, the national network of Long Distance lines has no margins this year for purely personal calls. With copper and many other materials vitally needed for war production, more lines cannot be built at this time.

May we therefore ask you . . . even during the holidays . . . to make only those calls to the war-busy centers which are necessary?

We appreciate your friendly understanding. Your continued co-operation is of real help to us.

THE BOOK MARK

by marty

"The Lifted Lamp" by Grace Noll Crowell.

Christmas to me with its sweetness, could not be celebrated in the Book Mark's column with a book more truly akin to the spirit of the day.

This is ~~a book of poems~~, with a table of contents as follows: "The Lifted Lamp," "The Lean Years," "Order," "The Imperative Peace," and some forty-five more poems, full of courage, hope and comfort for today and all days to come.

Let us quote a few lines from one of the loveliest and most courageous of this volume, entitled "The Latter Days."

"Perhaps this tribulation this great grief,
Will be forgotten on some future day.
It may be that the dark cloud
gathering now
Will lighten; that God's hand will take away
The heartache you have borne
so well, so long,
And in its stead will spring a
glad sweet song.
glad sweet song.
God grant it may be so, that in those days
You may be walking bright and happy ways."

With the Spirit of Christmas—Love—in each of our hearts, embedded there with permanancy, our future Christmases are all destined to be "white."

My very, very best wishes for Peace in your hearts.

Masons to Install Officers Jan. 8

Invitations are being mailed next week for the open installation of officers of Charity Lodge, No. 362, F. & A. M., to be held Friday evening, Jan. 8, 1943 in the I. O. F. hall in Campbell.

The installing officers will be Nels H. Johnson, inspector, district 53, and master of ceremonies will be Joseph S. Greenley, inspector, district 54A.

On the program will appear Dorothy Rich and Thomas D. Reese, soloists; and Irma Sanders, accompanist.

Officers-elect for 1943 are Edwin A. Naylor, master; E. Allen Schuyler, senior warden; Walter W. Williams, junior warden; Roy G. Archibald, p. m., treasurer; T. Arthur Robinson, p. m., secretary; Mark S. Stocker, p. m., chaplain; Willard H. Van Dyke, p. m., marshall; Hans E. Hansen, senior deacon; James M. Arnold, junior deacon; Charles S. Boyd, senior steward; Hugh G. Cramer, junior steward; George E. Hartwell, p. m. tyler; Walter I. Merrill, p. m., organist.

Quotas for Red Cross

A new quota of 500 fracture pillows and 1000 cases has been assigned to the San Jose Red Cross and its units, which means the Campbell unit needs more white material to make covers and cases. So far this unit has made 282 pillows and 426 cases for previous quotas, besides many other items.

CHRISTMAS BELLS

I heard the bells on Christmas day
Their old, familiar carols play,
And wild and sweet
The words repeat
Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

And thought how, as the day had come,
The belfries of all Christendom
Had rolled along
The unbroken song
Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

Till, ringing, swinging on its way,
The world revolved from night to day
A voice, a chime,
A chant sublime
Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

Then from each black, accursed mouth
The cannon thundered in the South
And with the sound
The carols drowned
Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

It was as if an earthquake rent
The hearth-stones of a continent,
And made forlorn
The households born
Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

And in despair I bowed my head;
"There is no peace on earth," I said;
"For hate is strong
And mocks the song
Of peace on earth, good-will to men!

Then pealed the bells more loud and deep,
"God is not dead; nor doth He sleep!
The Wrong shall fail,
The Right prevail,
With peace on earth, good-will to men!"

Telephone Cable Completed Dec. 21

Voices traveled across North America through a telephone cable for the first time Monday, Dec. 21, 1942.

N. R. Powley, president of The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company, in San Francisco, spoke with President Walter S. Gifford of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, in New York, in a brief ceremony, marking the official opening of the Bell Telephone system's new transcontinental cable from New York to San Francisco.

Two years of steady construction work across plains and mountains were required to build the new line, which runs underground for 1,600 miles from Omaha, Neb., to Sacramento, Calif., connecting at these points with existing cable networks of the East and Pacific coast. For most of its length the cable was buried in the soil by giant tractor-drawn plow trains which dug the furrow, laid the cable and covered it with earth in a continuous operation.

The new line is in addition to four other transcontinental lines which cross the western part of the United States by four different routes. On each of these other lines, however, the open wires are carried overhead on telephone pole crossarms. The underground construction of the new line is proof against wind, sleet, and the formation of ice, and was described as "adding greatly to the dependability of transcontinental telephone service, which is especially important in war time."

Ruscigno Dissolve Fruit Business

The secretary of state's office in Sacramento reports that a certificate of election was filed there Friday signed by Peter H. Ruscigno and Anna Rusigno to dissolve the business of California Fruit Products, Inc.

Peter Ruscigno was president of the organization, L. B. Ruscigno, secretary, and C. C. Coolidge of San Jose, was attorney.

Articles of incorporation were filed July 8, 1940, with Francis Arnerich of Los Gatos and Peter and Anna Ruscigno, of Campbell, directors.

The organization was incorporated to produce, process and market all types of foods, handle real estate and engage in other activities related to the chief purpose.

Letters of Miss Ruth Cowles Will Be Published

The following article is the first of several which are extracts of letters written to her mother by Miss Ruth Cowles, a daughter of Mrs. Amy Cowles, a former missionary teacher in Africa, now living in Claremont, California.

The Cowles family made their home in Campbell for a few years and made many friends here. However, the glimpses of life as depicted by Miss Cowles in faraway Union of South Africa from last Christmas time through months of the war year of 1942 make interesting reading for everyone.

Dearest Mother:

Just a word before the closing of 1941. The church bells have been ringing for watch-night services, and I am holding the fort alone here. But it is not lonely, for in the glorious moonlight outside, there is a hum of voices from down the hill, and the singing of children late to bed. I shall not watch the New Year in unless called out to a case.

I don't remember just what I wrote to you last. Three days ago there was a terrible motor accident out in the Township. The brakes of a huge bus gave way, and it started careening down the hill with a load of passengers and into a crowded street. The driver, realizing the situation, swerved the bus into a side street, thus stopping its wild rush but overturning the machine. There was a baby killed instantly, and the back of a girl of thirteen was broken and the ribs of another child fractured, and a number of lesser casualties—actually a miracle that more did not occur. We had to give first aid to all, and then the ambulance arrived at the Health Centre to take them off. My nurses (native) were simply great in coming to the rescue, jumping to care for the patients most splendidly, and working long hours after they were supposed to be off, without a hint of being irked.

Sunday night of this week I was called down stairs at about eight o'clock to find four members of one family all with stab-wounds that had to be sutured, and while we were attending them, in came two more with stab-wounds which also had to be sewed up. On that one day I stitched up eleven different people!

January 21, 1942

I am wondering whether you have heard of the recent uproar all over the Union about the "riots" at Alexandra. Reports of these inter-tribal fights were radio broadcast and put in headlines in the papers, and altogether exaggerated. There was a tribal fight to be sure, and a few heads were broken then the women got a fright and on one night about two thousand of them with babies tied on their backs, flocked from all parts of the Township to the police station, and to the Health Centre grounds for refuge. But it was a false alarm and after two or three hours they all went back to their homes. Our chief excitement at the Centre was the coming of the Civilian Protective Service workers to whom we served tea ad lib at any old hour. They were bored to death because after the first burst of fighting there was nothing to do! It is amusing and irritating too, to have heard from ever so many friends over South Africa asking whether I was safe. There never was any question of danger to me. We've had lunch now and I'm going to take a nap. Such luxury! I dare not mention war. How strange it is to have to be silent about that which is uppermost in our thoughts.

Laughing Around the World

A Crying Need for at Least One Sinner

By IRVIN S. COBB

IT IS narrated that back yonder in the old carefree days when business ethics were less strict than at present, two gentlemen were in the cotton business in a certain Tennessee town. They ran a gin; they also bought cotton from the planters and sold it again to the factory.

The Rev. Sam Jones, the famous Georgia evangelist, held a series of meetings in the town. One of the cotton men was converted and joined the church.

His associate attended all the services, showing deep interest but made no move to follow the sawdust trail to the penitents' bench. Naturally, the good brethren and sisters were anxious to see this brand also snatched from the burning. On the last night of the revival when the great exhorter was pleading with those still unsaved to come forward and accept salvation, a group of volunteer workers centered their missionary efforts on Bill Jackson where he sat on a rear seat.

"Bill," said one, "why delay? Why not go up and confess your sins and get right?"

"Nope," said Bill, "I guess not."

"But your pardner Jim got religion, didn't he?"

"That's just the trouble," explained Bill. "With Jim getting religion and me getting religion, too, who in thunder would there be left to weigh the cotton?"

CAMPBELL HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Defense Corps Stands Prepared

The Civilian Defense Corps is an organized group of students with a sergeant in charge of each unit. They met recently to discuss preeparedness.

These boys are in charge of all fire-fighting equipment and are assigned to aid students to safety during an air raid.

After school hours the boys serve as messengers for the Campbell Civilian Defense Corps. They are also prepared to serve as stretcher bearers and ambulance drivers in case of need.

Those who head the school corps are Dan Clark, captain; Carl Field, lieutenant; Bill Smith, lieutenant; and Floyd Williamson, bookkeeper.

Excalibur Hi-Y Group Has Active Program

In the past two years the Excalibur Hi-Y has been "doing things in a big way." This year is no exception. Their program includes monthly trips to the Y. M. C. A. for swimming, handball, and weight lifting.

Because of gas rationing this branch of Hi-Y is centering its activities closer around this area, but even with rationing the group is showing that they can still have fun.

Just this week members appeared on the campus wearing white T shirts with the word Excailbur and the Hi-Y insignia stamped on in blue.

Charles Simonds is adviser of the club.

Short Vacation!

Christmas vacation seems to be quite different from those in the past. Instead of the usual two weeks, we shall have one week which will begin after school today. School will be resumed on Dec. 28. On the following week we will have a holiday on Friday,

TODAY every patriotic American is interested in getting the most for his money by buying more carefully, by taking care of the things he owns and by avoiding waste.

As helpful suggestions to these Home Front war efforts, here are four examples for improving the service from your Natural Gas heating equipment. Do these things now. Winter condition your heating devices. Prevent fuel waste and save money.

1. Take off the grill on your floor furnace or wall register. Have a cardboard carton handy and go to work with a brush or vacuum cleaner. A pancake turner can serve to lift out heavy dirt.

2. Is yours a forced-air furnace? Then take out the filter pads. Give them a good cleaning or replace with new pads. Or better still, have a heating dealer check over the furnace, fan, motor, controls and pilot light.

3. Take a look at the vent pipe that connects your heater or other gas equipment to the flue. If it is rusted out or it leaks have it repaired or replaced now.

4. Watch room temperature and save gas. Overheating is not healthy anyway. If your open fireplace has a damper—close it when the gas heat is on. It is good economy.

We are fortunate in California to have a fuel like Natural Gas. The supply is sufficient for all essential needs and its delivery, flowing in a pipe, creates no transportation problem.

Keep warm, but do not overheat your house. Stay healthy but do not waste Natural Gas. Save fuel. Save Money. Buy War Bonds and Stamps.

Duration-ize your Gas Heating Equipment with Proper Care, Proper Use and Timely Repair.
